

We are so thankful that you have chosen to dedicate your time and effort to join us on Workcamp this summer. We value your participation and look forward to a wonderful week of fun, fellowship, and service.

We do not have a lot of rules. That being said, we're proud of the ones we do have. Therefore, we expect you to acknowledge and abide by the following covenant of behavior while participating in Workcamp:

My interactions with all students and adults will reflect my utmost respect for both them and myself. I will refrain from using inappropriate or suggestive language and will maintain the highest standard of conduct and integrity.

I will not bring or use alcohol, illegal drugs, tobacco products, or vaporizers of any kind.

My social media presence will honor my surroundings and I will refrain from posting, sharing, or promoting profane and explicit subject matter throughout all social media networks while on Workcamp.

By signing this document, I agree to honor this covenant and understand that if I violate its terms I am subject to being sent home from Workcamp at my own expense.
